

2011

VIRGINIA TECH College of Engineering

Profile:

Virginia Tech is the state's largest engineering college, and 5th largest nationally for undergraduate degrees awarded. America's Best Colleges 2011 survey released by U.S. News & World Report ranked the Virginia Tech College of Engineering's undergraduate program fifth in the nation among all accredited engineering schools that offer doctorates. The College of Engineering offers 14 undergraduate engineering disciplines: Aerospace, Biological Systems, Chemical, Civil & Environmental, Computer, Computer Science, Electrical, Construction Engineering and Management, Engineering Science and Mechanics, Industrial and Systems, Materials Science, Mechanical, Mining and Ocean.

Guaranteed Admission Requirements: Read it here:

<http://www.admiss.vt.edu/forms/engineeringarticulationagreement.pdf>

Students are guaranteed admission into the College of Engineering after completion of an A.S. degree in Engineering from GCC with at least a 3.0 GPA. Drafting and engineering technology courses will not be counted for academic credit in transfer.

Link to Majors within the College of Engineering:

<http://www.admiss.vt.edu/majors/coe.php>

Application for Admission:

<http://www.admiss.vt.edu/apply/transfer/checklist.php>

Frequently Asked Questions Answered Here:

<http://www.admiss.vt.edu/tools/faqs.php>

Online Application Fee:

$60.00

College of Engineering Articulation Agreement Planning Sheet:

<http://www.admiss.vt.edu/forms/>

[Provides checklist of requirements to be completed at Germanna.]

Transfer Guide (Course Recommendations by Virginia Tech Engineering Majors):

<http://www.registrar.vt.edu/tranguide/2010/bymajor/index.html>

Catalog:

<http://www.undergradcatalog.registrar.vt.edu/>

Financial Aid:

<http://www.registrar.vt.edu/tranguide/2010/finaid.html>

Check out scholarship opportunities available to engineering students by clicking on the GAA link above.

Tuition:

2011-2012 $5,254.50 (plus additional Engineering fee of $30/credit hour).

Contact:

Christi Boone
540.231.9763
chboone2@vt.edu